

2018 International Judge

Mauro Franco Paradisi

Construction Manager for
City of Avigliana, Turin,
Italy

Reano, Turin, Italy

Mauro Franco Paradisi is Construction Manager for the City of Avigliana, Turin in Italy. Since 1988, he has had various responsibilities pertaining to municipal services from the waterworks, sewage, public lighting, green areas, road and municipal buildings. Currently he is construction manager of floral displays, garden maintenance and pruning.

He became involved with national programs by organizing and directing the participation of the City of Avigliana was named Italy's Floral City in 2009 and participated in the 2009 Entente Florale. Mauro has been a National Judge for Comuni Fioriti (Italy's national program) and a judge for Entente Florale since 2012.

Mauro also devotes his time to speology: he is an instructor for the Technical National Alpine and Speleological Rescue Corps and was a Director of the School of Speleology, the Regional Commission of the Italian Speleological Society and President of the CAI Speleological Group Giaveno. He was a Director on the Regional Commission for the Protection and Conservation of Karst areas of the Piedmont Park area.